1. Thirty-one foreign delegates attended the General Assembly, including two from Yugoslavia:
 - a. Vactaw Olszak, Professor of Mechanics at the University of Warsaw, specializing in photoelasticity. He spoke excellent English. It was apparent that he held some government position.
 - b. Michat Lunc, who spoke no English and who was extremely quiet during the Conference. It was apparent, however, that he was scientifically qualified to represent Yugoslavia.
2. Other delegates were:
 - a. Netherlands: W. T. Koiler, representing the International Committee for the Congresses of Applied Mechanics.
 - b. UK: Professor G. Temple
R. V. Southwell
 - c. Norway: Professor H. Solberg
 - d. Italy: Professor G. Colonnetti
 - e. Belgium: L. Baes
A. Coppens
F. H. van den Dungen
 - f. Sweden: Professor F. K. G. Odqvist
W. Weipull
