Mr. Allen W. Dulles

STATINTL

Dear Mr. Dulles:

I enjoyed talking with you the other day and am sorry that you will not be able to attend the National Civil Service League dinner tomorrow night.

The National Civil Service League each year honors ten outstanding career officers. I am attaching a list of this year's winners to give you an idea of the people who will receive these awards. This is the award that Lyman Kirkpatrick received in 1960. Sherman Kent received it in 1961 and Art Lundahl in 1963.

We were, of course, very pleased to hear that Jimmy Lay had been selected as one of the 1964 winners. I know he will appreciate a note from you.

Sincerely,

Deputy Director of Personnel

Career Service Awards Program Participants

The National Civil Service League gratefully acknowledges the support of the many industries, banking organizations, and Washington community leaders who have joined with us to sponsor tables and promote attendance at this dinner. Our special thanks to the government agencies and friends of the Awardees who have participated in such large numbers.

Appreciation is extended to the following individuals and firms who have cooperated to make the dinner a success and to promote the prestige of the public service and to gain recognition for outstanding careers in Government.
