Dear Peter:

In response to your query concerning the number of Latin American students who attended Patrice Lumumba University in Moscow, the following is information we have obtained from our files:

(1) In 1979, 800 Latin American students attended the University.

(2) In 1982, equal amounts of Latin Americans, Africans, Arabics and Southeast Asians attended the University totalling 4,000. Thus, around 1,000 Latin Americans attended the University in 1982.
