Dear Mr. Casey:

We were very pleased to hear that [redacted] had made contact with you and that you were interested in learning more about the project we are proposing, which we call [redacted] Project."

STAT

STAT

The basic thrust of our efforts is to enable the United States of America to gain, attain or maintain a lead in the very critical field of high technology computer development over the Japanese and/or anyone else who would seek to gain an advantage over us in this arena.

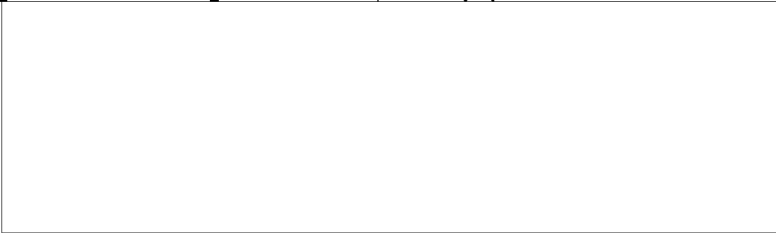

We look forward to meeting with Mr. Harry Fitzwater on Thursday, and I am bringing with me two of our directors. Dr. [redacted]

STAT

This is a project that was initiated by some very key people in the Administration, and we have had very high level support as we have endeavored to develop this very critical activity.

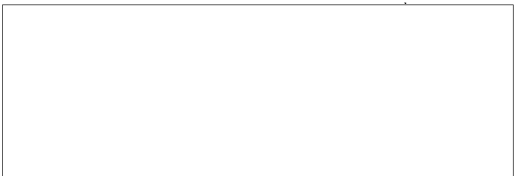

We will share all those details with Mr. Fitzwater and want to express a deep gratitude for your interest, and I look forward to having the opportunity to meet with you personally if you are desirous of any further input on our part.
