[redacted] Executive Director
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, D.C. 20505

Dear [redacted]

I am writing to invite you to participate in a conference reporting the activities and findings of the Task Force on the Better Utilization of International Skills. The task force was created last March, and consists of leading academic specialists and senior federal officials. The conference will focus on the proposal the task force has developed during the course of the last year.

The conference is jointly sponsored by the National Security Council and the National Council on Foreign Language and International Studies. It will be held in Washington on Thursday, April 28, in Room 208 of the Old Executive Office Building at The White House. The conference will be at 9:30 a.m. and conclude formally at 2:30 p.m. An agenda for the conference and a copy of the task force proposal are enclosed.

Sincerely,

Richard S. Beal
