Dear Mr. ^{Bill} Casey:

As a special supplement to the new CSIS series of Science and Technology Seminars, and in conjunction with the Center's International Communications Program, we are sponsoring an off-the-record assessment of the U.S. strategic interests affected by recent telecommunications deregulation. Lt. General William J. Hilsman, Director of the Defense Communications Agency, has very kindly agreed to be our speaker at this special session; it will be held on February 23, in the Wadsworth Room of the International Club, 1800 K Street N.W., Washington, D.C., from 4-5:30 PM. The General will be available for a question-and-answer session after his formal presentation; this, too, will be off-the-record. I would be honored if you would join General Hilsman and the Center's other guests on this occasion.

If you cannot attend in person, we would welcome your representative. I enclose a postcard for your convenience in responding; I hope you are able to fit this into your busy schedule.

Sincerely,
