Dear Mr. Vice President:

Enclosed is a copy of my Annual Report to the Congress on the Intelligence Community for calendar year 1981. This is the fifth such report prepared for Congress as required by Senate Resolution 400 and House Resolution 658.

This year's report describes some of the major challenges we faced, our accomplishments in meeting those challenges, and a discussion of the manner in which we propose to address future problems of intelligence substance and management. This is followed by reports to me from the Program Managers of CIA, DIA, FBI, NSA, and State (INR) on the activities, accomplishments and concerns for the future of their respective agencies.

I believe this report will enable the Congress to understand and appreciate the broad diversity of the Intelligence Community and the problems with which it must deal. Such understanding is essential to the management of intelligence resources and to intelligence support to national policies.

Respectfully,

William J. Casey
