Dear Mr. Casey:

Senior administration officials have declared terrorism as one of the major threats to American foreign policy. The latest CSIS Contingencies Paper "On Terror and Civil Liberties" by CSIS Senior Associate Robert H. Kupperman expands on that theme in several, highly important ways. First, Bob highlights the largely "invisible and ironic" threat posed by terrorism to our civil liberties, namely that overreaction in implementing counter-terrorist policies could provoke a cure as bad or worse than the affliction itself. Second, he suggests exploring the possibility of joint U.S. - Soviet initiatives to control international terrorism. These initiatives may lead nowhere or may only be marginally effective. But, they also might lead to containment of future terrorist related incidents before superpower crisis was precipitated.

This paper is timely and important. We hope it will make a useful contribution.

Sincerely,
