Office of Inspector General

- The inspection report of the Office of Finance is now complete and has been forwarded to the Executive Director and the DDCI.
- As a result of discussions during the annual Audit Staff conference [redacted] [redacted] we are now in the process of trying to develop an audit program which will allow us to conduct a systematic, limited audit review of some aspects of compliance with Executive Order 12333.
- Within the next few weeks, the OIG intends to reinstitute the practice of interviewing PCS returnees. This will enable the OIG to monitor the health and well-being of our overseas installations and possibly pinpoint areas where OIG attention should be focused.
- It might be interesting to note that the IG Grievance and Investigations Staff investigated 23 cases of alleged illegalities and improprieties in 1983 compared to a like number of 23 cases in 1982. They also handled 36 grievance cases in 1983 compared with 27 in 1982. In 1983 the OIG opened three EEO investigations compared with two in 1982. The OIG thinks these figures, which are at quite low levels historically (for an Agency of this size), suggest a reasonably happy work force.

PAO envisions the Archives ceremony will include the DCI, all members of the SSCI and HPSCI, selected OSS veterans, and members of the media.
- PAO has prepared a separate year-end report on the PRB which will be submitted to the DCI, DDCI and Executive Director. The volume of submissions and the problems posed by ex-employees writing on intelligence-related matters keep growing significantly.

e. Information Privacy Division, Office of Information Services, reports that a prisoner asking for copies of any information we have on him writes: "I understand that at this point every neurotic paranoid idiot in the country is petitioning your agency with this sort of request. Please be assured that I am not in with that group of crackpots. I am a bonafide criminal with a 15 or so years history of travel, smuggling, and deception, currently serving two years for aggravated arson and criminal conspiracy to commit murder." It's nice to know we are dealing with the real thing.
