EXPLANATORY NOTES AND SYMBOLS, TABLES I-VIII

* Less than 500 men.

** Less than 500,000.

"U.S. Forces" do not include those deployed in the Continental U.S., Alaska, Hawaii, Bermuda, Canada, and Greenland, or U.S. Naval units based on Continental U.S. or Hawaii.

"Indigenous Forces" do not include Colonials, Gendarmerie, Coastal Defense, Naval Infantry, Carbinieri or Marines.

"Indigenous Forces" are shown as if they were deployed entirely in their own countries. In most cases, they are actually so deployed, but for some countries (e.g., France and the U.K.) significant forces are deployed outside the home countries.

The total number of indigenous naval and air force aircraft is shown in every case. Where the information is available, the number of aircraft in operational units is shown in parentheses.

The total number of indigenous warships is shown in every case. Where the information is available, the number of operational warships is shown in parentheses.

In Tables I and II, the total military aid for NATO includes, in addition to the country programs, $9 Facilities Assistance, $37 million Mutual Weapons Development, and $58 Infrastructure. Although these are "non-regional" programs, all or virtually all of the programs in FY 1957 were for the NATO area.

In Table V, most of the PL 480 program shown for India involves a three-year program, but the sales agreement was signed in FY 1957 and utilized FY 1957 funds entirely.

In Table VII, the military aid figure for Korea includes $14 million for UN Logistical Support.

In Table VIII, the figure for economic aid in the "Other" category includes contributions to the technical assistance program of the Organization of American States.

No Soviet Bloc country is shown in the tables. In FY 1957, a PL 480 agreement for $19 million was signed with Poland.

Export-Import Bank Credit Authorizations are motivated by the Bank's statutory objectives of facilitating the exports and imports of the United States, rather than by national security objectives. The two objectives are, however, broadly consistent with each other. The Bank seeks guidance from the Department of State with respect to the foreign policy aspects of its lending operations, and on occasion has undertaken particular credits in response to particular problems of foreign policy.
