MEMORANDUM FOR: Acting Deputy Director for Administration
FROM: Thomas H. White
Director of Information Services
SUBJECT: OIS Weekly Report (6-12 November 1980)

Classification Review Division

Ben Evans, Executive Secretary to the DCI, who is attempting to reduce the amount of paper going to the Director, asked if the certification for continued classification could be signed by the DDCI instead of the DCI. Executive Order 12065 indicates that the authority is not delegable, but a check was made with the Information Security Oversight Office (ISOO) to determine whether the fact that the DDCI has been considered to be the head of the Agency (the DCI being the head of the Community) would authorize him to sign in this instance. ISOO replied in the negative and Mr. Evans was so advised.

CRD reviewed 46,707 pages of CIA documents and declassified approximately 12 percent.

Regulations Control Division

RCD processed 32 regulatory proposals during the reporting period.

c. An officer of the Department of State's FOI/PA office has informed us that, according to the head of the Lyndon B. Johnson Library, Soviets (presumably diplomatic officers) regularly visit the Library. They never submit mandatory classification review requests of their own, but rather examine or obtain copies of documents previously released to other requesters. We have always assumed that many of the documents we release eventually find their way into the hands of hostile intelligence services. An article published in The Washington Post on the Carrollton Press operation many months ago mentioned that officials from the Soviet Embassy purchased copies of released documents. (Incidentally, it is likely that any declassified documents released by the Johnson Library would also be available to the public through Carrollton Press. They would be available from the Library, however, at an earlier date.)
