Dear [Redacted]

Your request for the release of a camera to the National Air and Space Museum has received careful consideration. I must regrettably inform you that the request cannot be granted. I am sure you will understand that our paramount concern must be the protection of sensitive national security information; we feel that declassifying this equipment for public display would not serve that purpose.

Please accept my best wishes for the success of your new exhibit, "Looking at Earth."

Sincerely,
/s/ William J. Casey
