CHAIRMAN'S NOTES

- Terrorism Study: The DCI approved the Terrorism Study on 19 August. The study is presently being published in final form and will soon be disseminated for implementation as appropriate.
- Narcotics Follow-up Report: The DCI also approved the Narcotics Follow-up Report. It is also in the print shop being printed in final form.
- Mobile Missile Study: Clarification of a few points in the Mobile Missile Study has delayed its dissemination to the DCI. Those points have been resolved and the study should be on its way in the near future.

Remarks to CIPC 23 September 1985

- The working group was reconstituted in June 1985.
- Somewhat broader participation in this working group than last time--notably by DOE, HUMINT, and SIGINT Committee representatives.
- Perry Panel Study was undertaken in concert with the original CIPC exercise. The results have been integrated in the Follow-up BMD Report.

Most important conclusions of the follow-up report:

- Improvements to our capabilities for collection, processing, and analysis have occurred.
- However, there are no significant analytical breakthroughs--yet.
- Intelligence Community emphasis must be maintained in order to obtain continued improvements and eventual success.

Subsequent to [ ] opening remarks on the BMD Follow-up Report, you might add the following points:

- BMD continues to maintain high-level interest in the Intelligence Community and the Congress. As an example:
  - At the request of Tom Latimer, HPSCI Staff Director, on 13 May [ ] briefed Tom and the HPSCI staff on the substance and recommendations contained in the original BMD Study.
  - [ ]
  - Upon being informed that the CIPC would be doing a follow-up report for the DCI on this subject, Tom stated that he was anxious for the HPSCI members to become informed on this subject, especially the intelligence gaps and what the Intelligence Community is doing to alleviate them.
  - Moreover, Tom wants the HPSCI members to know that the DCI is actively pursuing and orchestrating the Community's efforts to overcome the critical intelligence issues facing it.
  - Finally, they requested a copy of the BMD Follow-up Report when it is completed, and a briefing for the HPSCI members on the role of the CIPC and how it works.
