

STAT

8

Channel 2 - KTVU 11 pm news (Oakland)

Newsman: The Director of Central Intelligence visited San Francisco and he asked the city's forgiveness for the operation of a bawdyhouse at 2250 Chestnut St. Turner said that Operation Midnight Climax where people were lured to this Telegraph Hill apartment for sexual encounters were, in his words, "abhorrent." But he doesn't know much about the operation since he hadn't Turner: The CIA is not involved in investigations. He also did not want to appear to be influencing the witness to testify or not to testify. I have not communicated with him. New documents became available.

5 Aug 77

Newsman: Admiral Turner said there were no such operations now. He did emphasize, however, the CIA continues to be deeply interested in the international drug trade but the CIA's "mind-control" experiments, he said, are all past history.