2. During his term of service with Analysis Division ORD, [REDACTED] has shown a consistent pattern of growth in responsibility and knowledge. Starting as a security clerk, [REDACTED] has shown initiative in becoming a computer operator. To accomplish this [REDACTED] engaged in a program of self-study, on the job training, and formal course work. The result is that [REDACTED] is now a fully qualified and competent computer operator. [REDACTED] has, again on his own initiative, started on a self-study program in programming. [REDACTED] is being encouraged to undertake formal studies in Computer Science. In discharging his duties as an operator, [REDACTED] is not only competent but is helpful to computer users by providing both explanations and assistance.
