 Peking, N. C. Yang, Chang Hui,

1. The first group of people who are likely to be affected by the proposed changes are those who are currently employed in the public sector. This group includes a wide range of individuals, from those who are employed in the public sector to those who are employed in the private sector. The proposed changes are likely to have a significant impact on this group, as they will be required to adapt to the new requirements. This may involve changes to their current roles, responsibilities, and skills. It is important that the public sector employees are given the opportunity to develop the necessary skills and knowledge to meet the new requirements. This may involve providing training and support to help them adapt to the changes. The public sector employees should be given the opportunity to express their views on the proposed changes and to provide feedback on the proposed changes. This will help to ensure that the proposed changes are implemented in a way that is fair and equitable for all employees. The public sector employees should also be given the opportunity to participate in the decision-making process. This will help to ensure that the proposed changes are implemented in a way that is transparent and accountable. The public sector employees should be given the opportunity to voice their concerns and to provide feedback on the proposed changes. This will help to ensure that the proposed changes are implemented in a way that is fair and equitable for all employees. The public sector employees should be given the opportunity to participate in the decision-making process. This will help to ensure that the proposed changes are implemented in a way that is transparent and accountable.
