On paper, the Party Congress, which elects the Central Committee, is the highest level body in the party. In fact, however, the center of power is widely acknowledged to be the members of the Politburo. The Committee, in turn, elects the Politburo, General Secretary, and Secretariat. The three advisers are all senior party members chosen by the Party Congress.

All members and alternate members of the Politburo are full members of the Central Committee. All members of the Secretariat are either members or alternate members of the Central Committee. Members of the various Central Committee departments and committees may or may not be members of the Central Committee itself.
