

There is a tall, light-skinned, wiry, man at the site. He's bearded with long, not hair.
Clothing is light weight, tan in color, dirty and poverty. He's not to be trusted. In his mind to "prove to the world" that he's right, he's manufacturing evidence that proves his theory. He's almost desperate. He'd like to avoid prosecution and to gain wealth and fame - not an altruistic bone in his body.