1. (S/STD/NF) On 28 June 1990, Remote Viewer 018 conducted a session to determine the current location of a target vessel identified as the [redacted] Viewer 018 also attempted to determine if the [redacted] was carrying contraband in the form of drugs; if so, Viewer 018 was to attempt to determine how the drugs were stored and to determine the final destination of the drugs.

2. (S/STD/NF) Remote Viewer 018 had self-acknowledged weak impressions of the current location of the target vessel, and placed the vessel in "the area of the Virgin Islands/British Virgin Islands." According the 018, [redacted] was carrying drugs located in the rear portion of the ship in two propane tank-like containers. Each container was a composite of two containers, a smaller one inside the other, larger, to provide a (dead) space between the two; this is where the drugs can be found. The front tank contained plastic-wrapped packages of white material, while the rear tank appeared to contain marijuana. SG1A

3. (S/STD/NF) Viewer 018 indicated the target vessel was protected from our (SUN STREAK) detection through some sort of (psychic) experimental defense which 018 was able to penetrate.

4. (S/STD/NF) Since the target vessel was the object of a SUN STREAK collection effort in Key West, Florida, no further effort was expended. The experimental shield reported by 018 can neither be confirmed nor disproved; if such a procedure is reported by any other viewer, it will be brought to your attention.
