1. (S/NF/SK) MISSIONS: Describe training target # 0083, Mystic Seaport, CT.
2. (S/NF/SK) VIEWER TASKING: "Today's mission is to provide an overhead sketch of the site." Encrypted coordinates. "Remember so that you can sketch, "textures," "sounds?" "feel free to move around the site, "let the AOL go away, "what gestalts are here, "move 3000 feet above the site and look down, "see what's next to it on all sides, "while you're high up in the air look to the East, "take time and let the AOL go away, "when you're ready go back up high, look down and study the land/water interface, "find some people, "you may have to move around to find some people, "what were they doing, "go to an area you would like if you were here, "what gives you that impression?" "do you see any people?" "move to where you don't smell the smell, "why are they here?" "ask the name of the place or the meaning of the name of this place, " and "try phonetics, sort of like a stage 7."
3. (S/NF/SK) COMMENTS: No PI's. Summary of information attached. 052 had real problems focusing on this site. She had a repeating AI that the site was a bad place to be. This repeating AI had an adverse influence on her session. She did correctly identify all the gestalts at the site. The size of the site seemed to intimidate her and caused her problems when she tried to get an overhead sketch.

WORKING PAPER

Target #: 0083
Date: 11 OCT 90
Time: 1015-1100
Viewer: 052
Session: 01

SUMMARY OF INFORMATION:

The target area is very large. There are structures, land and water. Some of the structures are pointed, some are rectangles with angles and a round thing on the top. There is one structure that is very large, boxy-looking with a lot of windows. There are many curves and archways. There is a bridge that is curved over the water. Down where the water meets the land there are rocks and a small beach. There is a really bad smell here and a chugging sound. There are bad feelings or bad energy at the site and I do not like it.

There is something that is within something else. The outer part is pointed and the inner part is rectangular shaped. Colors evident are blue, yellow, green, and black. The side of a building feels grainy, like sand. There is something really bright, like energy, pushing downward and moving something else upward. It made me think of some kind of jet aircraft or rocket. It had an exploding "boom" sound. There is something bushy or jagged with sharp points protruding from it.

The entire area is huge; it made me think of a city. There are many things going on. I can see two people, a girl with blonde hair and a lady with black hair; but they are in a hurry and do not want to talk to me. The people here live close by and they come here to work. They do not like it here either; they continuously look around as if they are being watched. There is a European or Asian feeling about this site. The structures are very old and are definitely not in the United States. The way the area is laid out is very strange, with its pointed buildings, curves, archways, and little round things on top of the structures.
