MISSION STATUS: Initial

SG1A

TECHNIQUE UTILIZED: ERV

SOURCE IDENTIFIER: 101

2. () SESSION: There were no unusual occurrences, inclemencies or external environmental conditions known to the interviewer which may have influenced the results of this session. This session was conducted entirely utilizing ERV protocols.

3. () SUMMARY:

a. () The following narrative contained within quotation marks is an abridged copy of Source's post-session written summary. This summary has been editorialized, (as indicated), by the undersigned for clarity, grammar and structure. The actual unabridged summary is maintained in the mission field dossier at this location along with any other material produced during this session, e.g., sketches, notes, etc. BEGIN NARRATIVE: "(There is a) building, tall, maybe five or six stories. (The) building has a bend or right angle in (the) middle. (The) building is old and has several feelings (about it) but none (of these feelings) are precise or absolute. (The) building has an imperial feeling (on one hand and on the other it appears as a) hospital (with) people trying to help other people. Finally there is a feeling of study(ing), learning. There is a large room with a long table (that is incidentally) older than the men sitting around it. There is also a more modern part (of this building) with closed circuit TV. (In this part of the building) there is a study going on".

b. () During the actual session, Source reported other data which may impact on the final assessment of this target. That data is listed below in raw unevaluated form:

(1) () The people who work at this facility are bright and intelligent with a good mixture of both young and old. There does not seem to be an impression of any type of military personnel at this site.

(2) () Upon entering the building there appeared to be some sort of elevated "checkpoint" or information desk. The word checkpoint seemed to be too strong since there does not appear to be any unusual type of security afforded this area and the elevated area appeared to be more of an information booth with personnel inside maintaining a card file with information on each person in the building in a manner more akin to a post locator as opposed to a badge or credential system.

(3) () At different times in the past this building seems to have served different purposes which may have caused the apparent disparities of impressions concerning its function.

(4) () In the room containing the long table, men in suits were seen to be relaxed in a feeling described as a "British Men's Club". Topics around this table could not be completely discerned however key words included: "Lysterol (sic)", "Cabals", "Congruences", "Conflagrations", and an unusual reference to "Cyrano".

(4) () In the more modern area, the concept of a "study" was described in various terms including: "perplexing", "a Gordian's Knot which has no beginning and no end", "a study to facilitate something else" and the concept of "predictability". This study has been going on "for quite a while with no end in sight". There are however, certain milestones and suspenses which must be met.

4. () OPS FEEDBACK: The intelligence question has only been partially answered, (if Source's data is found to be essentially correct). If the validity of Source's data is confirmed through analysis, then it can be stated that [REDACTED] is some sort of complex study which has been going on for some time and apparently will be going on for some time to come. The exact nature of this study could not be discerned however, in future sessions the nature of the study will be examined in more detail.
