E. SESSION SUMMARY:

----Initial access to the target building resulted in the street access to a tall and modern skyscraper. The access way from the sidewalk led to a series of steps that led to an entry way with an overhead green and white canopy. Three glass doors provided access to the building. See ENCLOSURE 1.

----Taken as a whole, the building appeared as a three-tiered tall building of concrete construction. Poles resembling antennas equipped with lights were at the higher levels of the building. A domed roof appeared to be a special feature of the building. See the representative sketch at ENCLOSURE 2.

----The target building appeared situated in a city atmosphere among congested streets and the presence of other tall buildings in the immediate vicinity. See overview at ENCLOSURE 3. The perspective from yet a higher overhead view is at ENCLOSURE 4.

----The ground floor to the building appeared involved in an activity dealing with money such as banking. The remaining floors of the building seemed dedicated to the conduct of commercial undertakings involving broadcasting and transportation.

The name "Irvin" surfaced phonetically as being directly associated with the building.
