E. SESSION SUMMARY:

The vessel was identified as being rather big and large. The vessel is currently carrying contraband in the form of narcotics.

An off-loading rigging company may be involved in abetting the activity.

There was an oriental concept associated with the port of origin.

The name "Mayberry / Maybury" phonetically surfaced as to ~~the~~ and may be associated with the vessel or the activity.

The expressions "koko," "kaika" and "jake" also phonetically surfaced.

The vessel can be interpreted and located at  $20^{\circ}$  North  $94^{\circ}$  30 minutes west in the near future. This location is near the Bay of Campeche in Mexican waters.

Final destination of vessel
or contraband is Port of New Orleans, Louisiana. The vessel may stop in California.

E. SESSION SUMMARY:

Various unidentified objects (pgs 2 & 3). First set consists of a group of beige & white, rippled, flatter disc-shaped objects which overlap each other. The second object feels mechanical and a part of a larger "machine". The third set consists of a series of tube-like structures in a ~~general~~ jumbled mess.

A thick liquid is leaking & dripping over a stack of objects which appear to be pots & pans. A location with metal shelves & metal clothes locker is important.

Phonetics include WAKA.... & WAKIA LUNA. India, Indonesia, New Guinea & Papua New Guinea are important. This vessel has links with India/Sri Lanka ~~vege~~ ~~to~~ Indonesia.

There is the concept of "contorted" figures or objects. There are hundreds of red bags containing vege's or fruits-like objects. White fog or mist is coming off of metal. There <sup>is</sup> small, black pebbly-looking material present.

Numerous silver "cans" with a distinctive label (see pg 4 & 5) are present. The "cans" are 6"-8" high & about 6" in diameter.

The label consists of a central figure, <sup>(maybe green)</sup> veined with a mythological connection on a mustard yellow background. This, in turn, is outlined in a band of red, then one of white.

There is a sandal-like material w/ these cans. Round, ~~long~~ cylindrical containers are within this "sandal". These containers hold pieces of a whitish material; some are shaped, others uniformly sliced like a sausage. Some have a green leafy material in them.

There are also flat slabs reminiscent of ~~the~~ plaster board w/ the paper stacked into bundles.

Several times throughout this session the concepts of small, shaped objects & the feeling of <sup>stone</sup> "jade" or ivory occurred. However, these were both AOC or AIs.

The vessel is currently sailing parallel to a coral reef or atoll & is running more north than east. This location is historically a treacherous area for ships to sail in.
