Public Affairs Guidance:

On March 10, 1983, the President will announce in a public address that this package is a logical mix of assistance, both economic and military; that this is essential to our own national interests and our policy objectives in the area. He will note that these resources are critical to further the development of democratic governments, strong economies, and to protect them in their struggle against Soviet-Cuban supported insurgency and totalitarianism. (U)

The Central America Working Group will develop and disseminate a legislative and public affairs action plan to govern implementation. (S)
