Preface

*Information available

was used in this report.*

This paper is part of a continuing effort to monitor and to assess the status and implications of the international debt situation. This is the latest in a series of annual reports that provide a comprehensive compilation of LDC debt by piecing together data from a number of basic sources. [Redacted]

LDC External Debt Positions

MethodologySources of Data

The primary sources used for our debt and debt service estimates are World Debt Tables (WDT), published by the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development (IBRD); International Financial Statistics (IFS), published by the International Monetary Fund (IMF); and Maturity Distribution of International Bank Lending, published by the Bank for International Settlements (BIS). Other sources of data include External Debt of Developing Countries, published by the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD); US Embassy estimates; and estimates made by the LDC governments themselves.

Estimating Medium- and Long-Term Debt

For most countries, we estimated medium- and long-term debt from WDT, IFS, and BIS data. Data on debts from official sources were taken from the WDT. The base for debt from private sources was derived by comparing WDT data on disbursed debt owed to financial markets with medium- and long-term debt estimates derived from IFS and BIS data.

To obtain IFS/BIS estimates of medium- and long-term debt held by foreign banks, we subtracted BIS assets that mature within one year from total BIS assets, and then added the prior year's BIS assets that mature within one to two years. We then compared total BIS assets with IFS foreign bank assets located in developing countries. If the IFS total exceeded the BIS number, we multiplied the IFS number by the ratio of the BIS medium- and long-term estimate to total BIS assets.

If the IFS or BIS estimate of medium- and long-term debt exceeded the WDT debt owed to financial markets, it was used instead of the WDT figure. When the WDT had data on nonguaranteed debt, the IFS or BIS medium- and long-term estimate was compared with the WDT total debt—including private nonguaranteed—owed to financial markets. In cases where the IFS or BIS estimate exceeded the WDT estimate, that amount again was used in place of the WDT figure.

To obtain 1985 debt estimates, we projected the WDT 1984 estimates to yearend 1985 and then followed the same procedure as above. Although the WDT does not have 1985 individual country estimates, it does publish aggregate estimates under regional country groupings. These aggregates are divided between debt owed to official and private sources. To obtain specific country base estimates on official and officially guaranteed debt for 1985, we multiplied the 1984 WDT debt totals for each LDC by 1 plus the percentage change from 1984 to 1985 of the WDT aggregate debt estimates.

We also used OECD data to form a base estimate for countries that do not report their debt to the IBRD, or in cases where we believed a large portion of nonguaranteed debt was not represented in the WDT, IFS, or BIS data. We used other information, including US Embassy reports and LDC government data, to adjust the base estimates.

Estimating Short-Term Debt

For most countries, we estimated short-term debt by first subtracting our BIS medium- and long-term debt estimates from total BIS assets. When the IFS debt held by foreign banks exceeded the BIS total, we multiplied the IFS total by the ratio of the BIS short-term estimate to total BIS assets. We then added the short-term estimate derived from the BIS or IFS to the IFS data on nonbank deposits in developing country banks to obtain a base estimate. We did not make short-term debt estimates with BIS or IFS data for countries where major offshore banking activities exist because of the inability to separate loans used by the host country from loans involved in the offshore banking facilities. For these countries—The Bahamas, Bahrain, Barbados, Hong Kong, Lebanon, Liberia, Panama, Singapore, and Vanuatu—we estimated debt from OECD data.

Quality of Debt Statistics

In our judgment, these debt estimates can be viewed as minimum levels. There are data gaps for many countries, especially concerning short-term debt and private nonguaranteed debt. For example, our short-term debt estimates generally cover debt held by banks and nonbank deposits in LDC banks but exclude nonbank trade-related credits. Recent data published jointly by the OECD and BIS capture some nonbank trade-related debt, and this information has been incorporated where possible.

Use of IMF Credit

The IMF provides balance-of-payments assistance to members by selling hard currencies of other members or special drawing rights (SDRs) to them in exchange for their own currency. The members to which the Fund sells hard currencies are said to make purchases from the Fund. Members that purchase from the Fund must later buy back, or repurchase, their own currencies from the Fund with hard currencies or SDRs.

Technically, purchases from the IMF are currency transactions, not loans, and are excluded from table 6. The economic effects of purchases are the same for the purchaser as those of loans, however, and the effects of repurchases are identical to those of repayments. For a more comprehensive picture of LDC indebtedness, data in table 4 may be added to corresponding data in table 6.

IMF credit outstanding comprises repurchase obligations for all uses of Fund resources except drawings in the reserve tranche and on the Trust Fund. This includes purchases outstanding under the credit tranches and the buffer stock, compensatory financing, extended Fund, and oil facilities. Because of changes in exchange rates and other distortions, year-to-year changes in IMF credit outstanding in table 4 should not be interpreted as net purchases or repurchases.
