GENERAL

1. Bonn unlikely to approve unofficial trade "agreement" with Peiping:

[Redacted]

[Redacted]

3.3(h)(2)

[Redacted] OSTAG, an association of German businessmen who attended the Moscow Conference, has submitted to the

3.3(h)(2)

Economics Ministry the text of a trade "agreement" reached with representatives of Communist China.

[Redacted]

3.3(h)(2)

since the agreement reflects the predominant interest of China in items on COCOM's strategic commodity lists, there is not the slightest possibility that the government will approve the agreement in its present form. Furthermore, doubts whether any agreement could be concluded under existing circumstances.

[Redacted]

3.3(h)(2)

Comment: According to the Peiping radio, Chinese imports from West Germany were to include tool-making and other machines, chemicals, pharmaceuticals, and textiles. The Communists have not publicly indicated whether their willingness to accept nonstrategic goods like textiles is conditional on Bonn's approving the sale of the machine items.

FAR EAST

2. Portuguese Consul comments on border clashes at Macao:

[Redacted]

The Portuguese Consul in Hong Kong reports that border clashes at Macao on 25 and 26 July, in which several Portuguese-African troops were wounded and an estimated 15 Chinese Communist troops killed, climaxed repeated provocations by the Chinese which had previously caused several less serious incidents.

The Consul believes that these incidents have not been sanctioned by the Communist authorities in Canton, who are said to be sending investigators. The Communists have not exploited the most recent incident, as local Portuguese feared, as a pretext to cut off food supplies from Macao.

3.3(h)(2)

3. Vietnam refuses to accept Indian Consul General:

[Redacted]

[Redacted] the

3.3(h)(2)

Tam government's rejection of the appointment of an Indian Consul General to Saigon because of India's refusal to recognize the Vietnam Government. In pointing out the Indian Government's "lack of good will" toward Vietnam,

3.3(h)(2)

French policy is strongly opposed to Chinese Nationalist efforts to establish diplomatic relations with the Associated States. Fear of provoking Peiping at this time is given as the reason.

Thailand is the only Asian state which maintains diplomatic relations with Vietnam.

4. French Commander seeks support for fall offensive in Indochina:

[Redacted]

Ambassador Heath in Saigon reports that the principal purpose of French Commander in Chief Salan's trip to Paris next week is to persuade officials there to send him the transport aircraft and crews necessary for offensive operations outside the Tonkin delta this fall and winter. Letourneau, whose full backing of such a request is needed, is reported not yet convinced of the value of Salan's plan for an offensive.

The American Ambassador, commenting on the apparently increasing inclination of the French Cabinet to conduct only a holding operation in Indochina, believes it imperative that the initiative be wrested from the Viet Minh. He concludes that a military stalemate will in the long run set the stage for ignominious negotiations with the Viet Minh.

Comment: The British Minister in Saigon noted recently that Letourneau, during his recent trip to Singapore, had unfavorably impressed British officials with his lack of a "victory psychology."

NEAR EAST - AFRICA

5. Senior Syrian army officers reportedly demand civilian government:

A group of field grade officers reportedly presented Syria's military dictator, Colonel Shishakli, with an ultimatum on 23 July demanding a return to civilian government and the removal of the ban on political parties,

3.3(h)(2)

3.3(h)(2)

Comment: There have been recent reports of army dissatisfaction with the Shishakli regime, allegedly over the forced retirement of certain senior officers. There is no evidence, however, that Shishakli has lost control of the situation.

3.3(h)(2)

6. Israel will oppose reported Syrian territorial demand:

3.3(h)(2)

Comment: The disputed Tiberias region is demilitarized and subject to an armistice agreement. Israeli officials have long argued that the entire area should be awarded to Israel and have consistently opposed yielding any part of the region to Syria.

Despite Arab objections to the drainage operations, Israel has never agreed to stop work except for limited periods of time.

7. Eritrean nationalist movement reported increasing:

3.3(h)(2)

The Eritrean nationalist movement, which is opposed to the aims of both Ethiopia and the West, is growing,

3.3(h)(2)

 The nationalists are attempting to prevent the Eritrean-Ethiopian federation proposed by the UN, which they view as union in disguise, because under the proposed constitution the real power would rest with the Ethiopian Emperor's representative in Eritrea.

Moslem discontent reportedly stems from the fear that top positions in the future Eritrean government will go to members of the Coptic group. There is accordingly some local agitation to resubmit the Eritrean problem to the United Nations.

Comment: According to the United Nations resolution, Eritrea is to become an autonomous province under the Ethiopian Crown by 15 September 1952. The US Consul in Asmara has also recently reported local dissatisfaction.

WESTERN EUROPE8. Bonn requests cheap air service to Berlin:

West German authorities, disturbed by the increasing molestation of Berlin-bound travelers, have asked the Allied High Commission to arrange for increased commercial air service to West Berlin at rates which approximate the fare for rail transportation.

3.3(h)(2)

Comment: This request was touched off by the arrest and detention of several West German travelers by East German authorities for no accountable reason. Since these travelers had valid Allied interzonal passes, this action constituted a clear threat to the free access to Berlin by West German citizens.

Soviet authorities have from time to time held up groups of travelers at border check points because of some "new" interpretation of interzonal pass regulations. The latest such incident was on 26 July.
