Dear Mr. Koch: Thank you for your letter of 15 February, 2007 regarding my FOIA appeal for an unredacted copy of the article "A Lingering Tragedy" that appeared in Studies in Intelligence in 1981. I received your letter when I was away from home for several weeks and could not respond earlier.

Unfortunately for me, the copy of the article that you released with your February letter continues to redact the name of the author. It is that piece of information, above all else in the article, that I need for my research. Am I to assume that the Agency Release Panel has deliberately ruled against releasing that bit of 26-year old information? May I ask on what grounds?

Is it possible for me to request, once again, the release of the author's identity? If so, please consider this letter as my specific request.

Very truly yours,
