6. Contact and Communications: Safe house debriefings. Agent can call on the special agent phone. Date of meetings and place of pick-up pre-arranged at previous meeting.
7. Control: Partly ideological, mainly by satisfying agent's desire for personal and financial security should he be forced to flee to Western Germany. Agent has signed receipts for money received. Unless controlled by the RIS, his working relationship with the AIS, should it become known to his superiors, would result in severe punishment. Agent's compensation will be deposited and held in escrow until termination of contract. His wife and child live in the Eastern Sector of Berlin.
8. Special Equipment: None at present.
9. Coordination: None
10. Timetable: Engagement started on 1 January 1951.
11. Estimated Costs:
- A. Retroactive approval of expenses incurred in agent's recruitment, amounting to 572 DM West, is requested. In order to establish the initial contact, agent, under pretense of a social invitation, had to be enticed into the Western Sector. Entertainment had to be provided for agent, CAISSON-19, CAUTERY-3 and CAUTERY-2, the operational plan calling for lavishness in keeping with agent's expensive tastes.
 - B. Compensation of 2400 DM West from 1 January to 30 June 1951, to be deposited in monthly installments of 400 DM West.
 - C. Special operating fund to be used at case officer's discretion for non-recurrent purposes for the period from 1 January to 30 June 1951: 300 DM West.
 - D. Regular monthly supply of coffee, liquor and fats.
12. Special Problems and Commitments: Disposal commitments, including agent's wife and child, comprise provision of secure travel to the West, procurement of residential permit and a testimonial of service.
