LELORAMUL FOR THE PRESIDENT

P

Y

Pursuant to your note of 31 October 1944 I have given conside tion to the organization of an intelligence service for the post-w poriod.

In the early days of the war, when the domands upon intellige services were mainly in and for military operations, the OSS was placed under the direction of the JCS.

Once our enomies are defeated the domand will be equally pres ing for information that will aid us in solving the problems of pe

This will require two things:

1. That intelligence control be returned to the supervision the President.

2. The establishment of a central authority reporting direct to you, with responsibility to frame intelligence objectives and t collect and coordinate the intelligence material required by the Executive Branch in planning and carrying out national policy and strategy.

I attach in the form of a draft directive (Tab A) the means t which I think this could be realized without difficulty or loss of time. You will note that coordination and contralization are plac at the policy level but operational intelligence (that pertaining primarily to Department action) remains within the existing agenci concerned. The creation of a central suthority thus would not conflict with or limit necessary intelligence functions within the Army, Navy, Department of State and other agencies.

In accordance with your wish, this is set up as a permanent long-range plan. But you may want to consider whother this (or part of it) should be done now, by executive or legislative action. There are common-sense reasons why you may desire to lay the keel of the ship at onco.

The immediate revision and coordination of our present intelligence system would effect substantial economies and aid in the more efficient and speedy termination of the war.

Information important to the national defense, being gathered now by cortain Departments and agencies, is not being used to full advantage in the war. Coordination at the strategy level would prevent waste, and avoid the present confusion that loads to waste and unnocessary duplication.

Though in the midst of war, we are also in a period of transition which, before we are aware, will take us into the tumilt of rehabilitation. An adequate and orderly intelligence system will contribute to informed decisions.

' We have now in the Government the trained and specialized personnel needed for the task. This telent should not be dispersed.
