[] 3 555 ***				***
				Top Secret
					·
USSR:	Lithu	anian Party Declar	es Independence
	The Lithuanian party's declaration of independence from the Communist Party of the Soviet Union yesterday will accelerate centr: fugal tendencies in the national party and reduce the authority of party leaders, but Moscow's response probably will be more bark than bite.
	The decision, by an 855 to 160 vote, flouts the CPSU Central Committee's insistence on a unified national party and the intense pressure from the Politburo, including a personal appeal by President Gorbachev. In the debate before the vote, several ethnic Russian delegates opposed complete independence, arguing instead for greater autonomy within the Soviet party.
	are co Lithu may c	Comment: Gorbachev and other national party leaders undoubtedly are concerned about the blow to their authority and the failure of Lithuanian party boss Brazauskas to get a compromise. Gorbachev may come under pressure from his right to reply harshly, perhaps by increasing the presence and visibility of troops in the republic.
	retain mave decis	The leadership probably will be restrained, however, wanting to retain some influence over Lithuanian politics. It could strip the maverick party of such benefits as having a voice in national party decis onmaking and the use of national party buildings, property, and printing facilities.
	Estor Lithus breat: Mosco increa	ia, Latvia. Georgia anian example befo ne life into some re ow's control in the	, and perhaps Arr ore republic electi public parties but non-Russian repu of other nationalis	trage republic parties in menia to follow the ons next spring. This may twill further reduce ublics. It is also likely to sts that they can achieve eaceful action.	·
	choos A sina	e to stay in the CPS	ers, mainly ethnic SU, adding to ethi	many as 20 percent of Russians and Poles, will nic tensions in the republic. c parties that opt for	~
		4		Top Secret TCS 2995/89 21 December 1989
——————————————————————————————————————

6.2(d)

6.2(d)

6.2(d)

6.2(d)

6.2(d)

6.2(d)

3.3(b)(1)

6.2(d)