

Howell,

Danny is now my direct supervisor. When we got on the Subject of RV - He's always reading the Skeptical Inquirer to me because he knows of my interest in PSI, he said it was very easy to subconsciously clue the RV'ing person into thinking they were getting PSI when they were really just being clued. I started thinking back to all the work Tim + I did and couldn't really see where it was possible. I'm I getting out of the business? Probably not - but it's not going to be easy for me to "play" anymore - My career + position in OS3 have put me in position to eventually get a 13. - I'd have to give that up to work for [redacted]. Tim won't be coming back. [redacted] may retire at any time and lots of other things. I'm pretty confused about the whole subject. On one hand I hate to throw away what I see as 3-4 years of past professional research and on the other hand I feel NSA via Scott et al have already thrown it away by neglect and unappreciation. So - I just don't know. I know I trust you though and that will hold me safely for now. Thank you
