MEMORANDUM FOR: Director, Central Intelligence Agency

VIA:

Deputy Director, Central Intelligence Agency

Associate Deputy Director, Central Intelligence

Agency

FROM:

David B. Buckley Inspector General

SUBJECT:

Review of the CIA-NYPD Relationship

- (U//FOOO) Introduction. The Office of Inspector General (OIG) recently completed a review of certain CIA support to, and involvement with, the New York City Police Department (NYPD), including the NYPD Intelligence Division (NYPD-ID). attached Executive Summary is provided for your information and contains the investigative findings and conclusions of the preliminary review.
- (U//FØUO) OIG found no evidence that Agency employees violated certain prohibitions contained in Executive Order (EO) 12333 or the National Security Act of 1947 during the course of cooperating with or supporting NYPD post 9/11. This review also found no evidence to suggest that during the course of CIA's relationship with NYPD that Agency personnel, while engaged in the performance of CIA duties, either exercised law enforcement powers or engaged in intelligence activities solely directed at the domestic activities of US persons. Accordingly, I believe there is an insufficient basis to merit a full investigation into the CIA activities regarding the relationship with the NYPD at this time. My particular observations are provided below for your review and consideration for possible action.

SUBJECT:	Review	of	the	CIA-NYPD	Relationship

- (U//E000) Observations. The Agency's longstanding relationship with NYPD-ID is unique. OIG is unaware of any similar relationships between the Agency and other local law enforcement entities in the United States. As a consequence, the risk to the Agency is considerable and multifaceted. negative public perception is to be expected from the revelation of the Agency's close and direct collaboration with any local domestic police department, a perception that the Agency has exceeded its authorities diminishes the trust placed in the organization. This has the added potential of impeding our ability to effectively support law enforcement at both the local and federal level. Additionally, the risk that CIA officers could become involved in law enforcement matters exists if implementing procedures and policies designed to accommodate such collaboration are not clearly understood, managed well, and followed. A lapse in any one of these components when associated with domestic intelligence activities has the potential to make Agency officers vulnerable and could jeopardize the vital mission the Agency performs.
- 4. (U//FODO) With these considerations in mind, OIG's discovery of a number of irregular personnel practices, the lack of formal documentation in some important instances, and the varying degrees of management and legal oversight regarding the CIA-NYPD relationship post 9/11 is noteworthy. The revelation of these issues, as discussed in more detail in the Executive Summary, leads me to conclude that the risks associated with the Agency's relationship with NYPD were not fully considered and that there was inadequate direction and control by the Agency managers responsible for the relationship.

to NYPD records and the practices to be followed with respect to the sharing of lead information. Given the unique sensitivities reflected in regarding the collection and retention of US persons information, as well as the legal and regulatory limitations and requirements on CIA's ability to provide assistance to local law enforcement, better documentation of the arrangement, practices, and appropriate approvals was warranted.

Please advise me of any further information you may desire and of any corrective actions taken based on the OIG's review of the relationship.

Executive Summary

Report of the OIG Preliminary Inquiry into the CIA-NYPD Relationship

I. (U) Scope and Background

1. (U//FOXO) Scope of the Inquiry. On 29 August 2011, the Inspector General (IG) directed that the Investigations Staff (INV) of the Office of Inspector General (OIG) conduct a preliminary inquiry into allegations of inappropriate CIA involvement in the activities of the New York City Police Department (NYPD), as reported in an Associated Press story. On 31 August 2011, the Acting Director CIA requested OIG expeditiously review CIA support to, and involvement with, NYPD. Based upon this request, OIG assembled a team of seven investigators, an Attorney, and a Research Assistant to conduct a preliminary inquiry of the CIA-NYPD relationship, including the NYPD Intelligence Division (NYPD-ID), to determine whether CIA actions violated Executive Order (EO) 12333, the National Security Act of 1947, and/or

Law and Policy Governing the Conduct of Intelligence Activities. OIG reviewed many thousands of records from its own holdings or provided to OIG by Agency components, consisting of cables, e-mails, official correspondence, Congressional briefing notes, personnel and security files, and Agency biographies. Over the course of its inquiry, OIG interviewed 33 individuals, some of them more than once, at various locations within the United States and overseas. (Exhibit)

2. (U//FO00) Background. According to the witnesses we interviewed, before the 11 September 2001 (9/11) terrorist attack on the US, specifically the City of New York, the NYPD-ID was focused on VIP personal protection and criminal intelligence collection related principally to gang, narcotics activities, and organized crime. After 9/11, the ID dramatically expanded its focus on counterterrorism. In January 2002, NYPD Commissioner Raymond Kelly appointed David Cohen, a retired CIA Senior Intelligence Service (SIS) officer who had been working in the private sector in New York City, to be the Deputy Commissioner of Intelligence. Over several years, Cohen expanded the size of NYPD-ID and established several division initiatives directed at thwarting terrorist activities. As of the date of this Report, Cohen continues to serve as the Deputy Commissioner of Intelligence.

A Concept of Operations (CONOP) was developed by senior Agency

Before the creation of the ODNI, the Director of Central Intelligence (DCI) served as both the head of the intelligence community and the head of the CIA. DCI Tenet directed to New York City in 2002 under his DCI authorities as manager of the intelligence community.

apply to the activities of an employee on LWOP, as long as the individual was acting in a personal capacity and not subject to CIA direction. OIG found no evidence indicating that while

The MOA enumerated the justification for  assignment as mutually beneficial to the Agency and  NYPD. told OIG he understood the legal limitations regarding his authorities and said he was careful not to overstep his bounds. He said he spent considerable time and effort trying to help NYPD improve its volatile relationship with the local FBI and specifically the FBI-led Joint Terrorism Task Force.  12. (U//FOWO) During the course of its inquiry, OIG received information from current and former senior Agency officials who expressed concern that his position with NYPD had placed the Agency in the middle of a contentious relationship between the FBI and NYPD.
VI. (U) Conclusions
13. (U//POUO) OIG's preliminary inquiry found no information or evidence that Agency officers engaged or participated in any activities that violated EO 12333 or the National Security Act of 1947. Specifically, OIG found no evidence indicating that Agency officers conducted intelligence activities directed at the purely domestic activities of US persons in violation of EO 12333 or that Agency officers, while engaged in the performance of CIA duties, exercised any law enforcement, police, or internal security powers in violation of the National Security Act of 1947. EO 12333 and Agency regulations authorize the Agency to provide assistance to local law enforcement entities in certain circumstances provided that necessary approvals have been obtained.
14. (U//FOXO) OIG's inquiry identified a potential issue that may have occurred from about February to April 2008, with regard to certain collection activities within the US.  A previous officer assigned to NYPD-ID believed he temporarily received/had access to particular "unfiltered" NYPD-ID reports. OIG, on 8 November 2011, reported this potential violation to the Intelligence Oversight Board, as required by EO 12333.

- 15. (U//FOUO) Agency staff officers provided direct assistance to NYPD, initially to identify ways to improve IC support to, and information sharing with, law enforcement, followed by efforts to develop the analytical expertise of NYPD-ID in dealing with counterterrorism issues of local concern. Since 2002, CIA has assigned a total of four officers to provide direct assistance to NYPD.
- 16. (U//FOMO) The Agency provided these officers with varying degrees of management and legal oversight and guidance during their respective assignments. The personnel assigned to assist NYPD had different functions and different levels of understanding of their respective role as an Agency staff employee assigned to work with NYPD. OIG's inquiry found inconsistent administrative documentation and levels of review regarding LWOP approvals, MOAs, information-sharing arrangements, and Outside Activity Requests. With respect to each Agency officer assigned to NYPD, the inquiry identified, albeit at various intervals and degrees, consultation with OGC, as required by when the Agency provides generalized training to state or local law enforcement.
- 17. (U//FOUO) OIG's preliminary inquiry found that issues raised in 2008 with respect to the appropriateness of providing specialized operational training to an NYPD detective received extensive review and assessment by Agency personnel, including OGC attorneys. Agency senior management, including the Associate Deputy Director, Director of the NCS, and the Senior Deputy General Counsel subsequently approved this training, and the NYPD detective was temporarily detailed to the Agency and attended a portion of the Agency's before returning to NYPD.
