1. Reference is made to your telephone request for information concerning Subject.

2. Our files describe one Gustav SCHLOTTERER as an economic expert who was chief of the Economics Department in the Reich Ministry for the Occupied East, as well as deputy head of a department in the Reich Ministry of Economics. At various times he worked as a bank clerk, a journalist, and a civil servant. He was an old Nazi Party member. He was drafted in December 1944, and served as a private in the AA in Munich. He was custodian of the central archives of the Wirtschaftsministerium.

3. The following statement concerning a Dr. SCHLOTTERER, economic expert in the Reich government, was made in 1942 by a person who had been acquainted with him: "SCHLOTTERER and his hard-working fellow beavers are the backbone of the Nazi system. They are men...who will never, under any circumstances, give up the German dream of hegemony."
