Uganda - Urban Growth Rate v. Total Population Growth Rate

The graph compares the urban growth rate with the total population growth rate in Uganda over different time periods from 2000-2030. The urban growth rate is represented by the blue line, while the total population growth rate is represented by the orange line. Both rates show a downward trend over the period, indicating slower growth rates in the latter years.